

Twenty Tips for Quality Infant-Toddler Caregiving

Before we start, Im looking for examples of Home Visitor planning forms & Case management form. We (Head Start)are in the process of looking for a more efficient forms which will satisfy Head Performance Standards. Please email me at crutsp@norwescap.org, thank you the sensory needs seem to be easily overlooked- such a great point about paying attention to the sensory needs paying attention to a child's need is very important Wish she was my Grandmother! Love her!
positive is always best
She gives great information and tips
And she is funny
She is great!
She is awesome, what a refreshing reminder to how we should be interacting with babies!
she has such amazing energy
I am enjoying this wonderful woman
Great presenter!
Alice is a very, very wise woman and I so appreciate all she has done, and continues to do for children, families and human kind in general!
the passion of Early Childhood Ed. is alive and well in Alice Honig!!
Behavior guidance for Infants and Toddlers
Tempo is very important at any age in my opinion
Dr. Honig is wonderful. Wish I could see and hear her!
Playing Learning Games
ok, love this speaker, yet it keeps going out, any ideas, a box keeps coming up saying connection error and it has a number... should I call the number, HELP
AMEN! 1 SECURE ATTACHMENT!
Yes! Secure Attachment!
Strong words
Secure attachment is crucial!
Amen
I love this point from her slide about one secure attachment should be the birthright of every single child,
I'm loving her
I really like her and how she is presenting this information
I could listen to Dr. Honig all day! She is amazing!!!
She is so inspiring
I loved that she mentioned low salaries!
Right!
So true very low
Dr. Honig has a natural way to talk about little ones. Love her!
We do it for love and passion not for money
Thank you, Dr. Honig

Twenty Tips for Quality Infant-Toddler Caregiving

Yes, she is so on point! Thank you Dr. Honig!
I like that! Secure attachment is the best insurance!!!
I agree: secure attachment is the best insurance.
So many times the adults who are caring for, even the parents, have insecure attachment themselves....how can they give what they never received?
Ammunition love the phrase
Dr. Honig is speaking to my heart!! Amazing presentation!
so funny
I love her face expressions
I like her sense of humor.
I was just having a conversation with one of our teachers about this. She was annoyed that the baby keeps rubbing her arms during circle time. Now I can tell her why!
Very Knowledgeable and interesting to listen to!
She is awesome!
She is amazing
The truth is setting us free.
Interesting topic and motivated presenter!
Oh she has no filter she is so on point
The humor is so good for my soul.
She's a riot! Makes me want to attend Syracuse just so I can learn from her.
Liking the information
Dr. Honig embedded in my memory forever so wise
I think she meant 3 million and not 30 million!
Awesome way to start the day!
I cannot wait to share this information with the Early Head Start staff.
great presentation I ever had
Jr. High and High School Child Development courses are my dream come true!!
To Pam: it is 30 million word gap
I would love to show this presentation to my caregivers. Is it possible to pull it up at a later date?
I like the idea of child development classes in high school
she is awesome !
LOVING this session!
Wow love the concept about classes in high schools
Confucius said- the beginning of wisdom is learning the names of things.
I want to show this to my staff as well. She is wonderful!
Here is a short summary of the language research Dr. Honig was citing: http://literacy.rice.edu/thirty-million-word-gap
I love it when a toddler presents with a sense of humor
Teachers should display happiness when working with children.
Play is important for adults too.

The children in my class taught me the word Boo Yah....it means you have it going on. You have it right. This humor is hilarious. Booooo-yah Dr. Honig
I so agree..income and love of your children do not come as a package!
Boo Yah!!
Did you see him lick his finger before he turned the page!
She is great!
love the video
Awesome...awesome...ufff very awesome
too cute
So sweet!
its in the page you went to log in here
She is good!
thank you Dr Honig..
Dr Honig is an amazing human being. We are so fortunate to have her in this profession.
easy
did anyone else notice that in that video when the baby went to turn the page one of the times he actually looked like he licked his finger as an adult would to turn the next page. so cute
For some more information about temperament check this out: http://eclkc.ohs.acf.hhs.gov/hslc/tta-system/health/mental-health/ec-mental-health-consultation/it3/it3-intro.html
fun listening
More on temperament from CSEFEL: http://csefel.vanderbilt.edu/resources/wwb/wwb23.html
I love the way she explain how to Tune into Temperament Styles.
Yes Dr. Honig!
And we wonder why adults struggle with apology... perhaps we don't model it?
So important to get to know each child and learn their temperament. Individualization.
couldn't stop watching if I needed to..keeps my interest
Love that she is telling it like it really is.
Yes,thank you!
true true true!!!
Yes, Kristy!! It is so difficult for us yet we are always requiring children to apologize!!
May we have research citations Dr Honig? Question bar is not howing send on it
I will love to see Ms. Honing teaching a classroom, she rocks.
wow
I am enjoying her very much!
That Russian lullaby- wow!
Alice Honig-I LOVE your methods of teaching. this is a great experience for all.
Just witnessed this during an observation last week!
Wow so impressed...thank you Dr Honig...thank you for sharing soo many stories!...so entertaining...I will not forget these stories!
Stories are her story.
I read her work in the 70"s. Always articles in Young Child from NAEYC
