

THE NATIONAL CENTER ON
Parent, Family, and Community Engagement

The Office of Head Start (OHS) invites you to join us for the Head Start Family Engagement Week and

The Launch of the Parent, Family and Community Engagement Framework

Monday, September 26, 2011 - Friday, September 30, 2011

3:00 p.m. (EDT)

The Head Start Family Engagement Week will feature a series of webcasts and a national conference call to introduce the Parent, Family, and Community Engagement Framework (PFCE Framework). These activities will support your understanding of how the PFCE Framework defines engagement in the context of best program practices and program requirements. During Head Start Family Engagement Week, you will hear from parents, program directors, and staff.

Each Day Discover Something New About the PFCE Framework:

Monday, September 26: The PFCE Framework and School Readiness – OHS Director, Yvette Sanchez Fuentes provides an overview and Head Start and Early Head Start programs, state associations and national organizations will receive the Information Memorandum and PFCE Framework

Tuesday, September 27: Parent and Family Engagement Outcomes - OHS Director, Yvette Sanchez Fuentes speaks with Head Start parents

Wednesday, September 28: Program Leadership and Family Engagement - OHS Family and Community Partnerships Specialist, Kiersten Beigel speaks with two Head Start Program Directors

Thursday, September 29: Children's Learning and Development and Family Engagement - Kiersten Beigel speaks with an Education and Curriculum Director and a Family Services Coordinator

Friday, September 30: National Head Start Family Engagement Conference Call - Q&A with ACF Deputy Assistant Director and Interdepartmental Liaison for ECD, Joan Lombardi; Yvette Sanchez Fuentes; Kiersten Beigel; and the National Center on Parent, Family and Community Engagement
