

Fiscal Responsibilities

William Flynn: Most board members look to the fiscal expert for the answers. But what I always tried to do was I always tried to explain all the little nuances of what's happening with the money that's being spent because without them getting a better knowledge of where that money goes and where it doesn't go it goes away fast. We've got to be very mindful of them using their money for what they really need it for which is the families and kids.
