

Insights for Insights for New Directors: Donna Barnette

[Opening Credits]

Donna Barnette: For a new director, my advice would be to reach out. Just reach out to others. Don't be afraid to ask the questions. Don't be afraid to experiment a little bit as well and trust the people that are around you.

[Title card: "What motivates you?"]

Personally, in order for me to continue to feel passionate about it, I often visit the facilities. And I rock a baby. And that just reminds me of why I'm here. I'll sit in the floor with a group of toddlers all around me. And it's wonderful: The hugs and the kisses, even amongst all the germs. It's great. It really is. And it reminds me of the work and the meaning of the work.

[Closing credits]