

AIAN LANGUAGE AND CULTURE COMMUNITY ON MYPEERS.ORG

What it is:

The AIAN Language and Culture Community is part of the social networking platform referred to as “My Peers” and is sponsored by Office of Head Start for our grantees.

This interactive site has been built so AIAN Head Start grantees can exchange ideas, experiences, and opportunities about culture and tribal language development. This group includes HS Directors, Education Managers, and HS Staff who are passionate about promoting language & culture within their classrooms.

We hope that you will join us on this site and we look forward to interacting with you and hearing your questions, ideas, experiences and thoughts on this topic!

Aleutian Pribilof Head Start - Traditional Foods Curriculum

The Aleutian Pribilof Islands Association, Inc. (APIA) Head Start program has developed a curriculum which highlights the traditional foods of their tribe and its nutritional value. They have also developed books, posters, and digital stories to go along with the curriculum which spotlight traditional harvesting and fishing techniques. Below is a link to the curriculum they've developed as well as the supporting resources. How do you incorporate traditional food practices into your Head Start curriculum?

Endazhi-ojibwemotaadiyang - Leech Lake Head Start Summer Focus Classroom

We are creating success by building on what we learned.

Our summer program at Leech Lake Head Start has a dedicated Language Focus Classroom.

We structured our classroom around several points of success we realized during our school year language project. From our school year effort; we learned that committed
