Appendix I

Using Flip Charts

✓ Use the right markers. Instead of normal magic markers that may bleed through the page, try markers that are specially designed for flip charts.

✓ Use colors you can read. Pink, yellow and orange markers are difficult to see from a distance.

✓ Print your text and titles neatly and clearly. If you have less than perfect penmanship, you may consider asking someone else to make the charts for you.

✓ Use a combination of upper/lower case letters; they are easier to read. DON'T USE ALL CAPITAL LETTERS.

✓ Use the 6 X 6 rule: only write six lines of text and only six words per line.

✓ Remember that a flip chart is a training aid. If its use doesn’t enhance your training, it could become a hindrance.
